

Lydia Diamond

While she was at Northwestern, Lydia received the Agnes Nixon Playwriting Award for her first play, Solitaire. In 1991, Lydia graduated with a B.A. in Performance Studies and met John Diamond, whom she would marry in 1996. After graduating, she founded her own theatre company, Another Small Black Theatre Company With Good Things To Say and A Lot of Nerve Productions, putting up several of her own plays in Chicago and expanding her playwriting repertoire.
